In response to COVID19 RTFM (as we are able) is offering free 30 minute to one hour counseling and life coaching sessions to all. In addition to that we are also offering lifestyle education to give you insight on how to best take care of yourself during this virus outbreak. Lastly, we have a grief counselor on our team if you have experience loss of any kind and need counseling support. If you, your loved ones or anyone you may know needs our services we can be contacted via our website at www.rekindletheflameministries or by calling us at (715) 575-1824 or email us at contact@rekindletheflameministries.org.

We will provide these services online, on conference call or when possible in person. We are here for you and are praying for God to be a Mighty Helper for all in this time of need!
